

01 · Market structure & trends

FXC Master · Class notes (view only)

Topics in this lesson

- Higher highs & lows
- Trend, range, reversal
- Marking structure

Illustrative chart — for education only. Not financial advice.

Explanation

Market structure is the sequence of swing highs and swing lows that price leaves behind. An uptrend makes higher highs and higher lows; a downtrend makes lower highs and lower lows.

When structure stops making progress in one direction, the market may be ranging or preparing to reverse. Learning to mark these points objectively removes guesswork.

In the live sessions you will mark structure on real charts until it becomes second nature.